How to Have the Best Cough Remedy Made at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2 1/2 ounces Pinex (30 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly 82 cents. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with quinine, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with it.

BRITAIN LETTING PASS MORE GOLD TO HOLLAND

Shipment of $1,500,000 Will Leave New York To-day—Total Now $12,000,000.

New York, Feb. 29.—Another gold shipment to Holland under an agreement with the British government against seizure will go forward to-day on the Holland-American liner Nieuw Amsterdam for Rotterdam, touching Falmouth. The shipment, amounting to $1,500,000, was announced yesterday by the Guaranty Trust company and brings the recent movement of gold to Holland from this country to about $12,000,000. The present shipment is for payment of Sumatra tobacco purchased in Holland for the account of American importers.

Now Fear Diaz.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Felix Diaz has eluded the surveillance of department of justice detectives and the government is interested in reports that he is about to launch an armed expedition against Gen. Carranza.

Officials are informed that he has landed in Mexico.

The Treatment of Influenza or La Grippe

It is quite refreshing these days to read of a clearly defined treatment for influenza or La Grippe. In an article in the "Lancet-Clinic," Dr. James Bell, of New York City, says he is convinced that the bowels are both unnecessary and injurious.

When called to a case of La Grippe, the patient is usually ordered that the bowels be opened freely with salts, "Aetiole" or citrate of magnesia. For the high fever, severe headache, pain and general soreness, one anti-kamnia tablet every three hours is quickly followed by complete relief. Ask for A-E Tablets. They are also indicated for headache, neuralgia and all pains.

TIDE SETTING TO HUGHES

Drift to a Candidate of Vigorous Americanism

HE HAS NOT SAID "NO"

Persistence of Demand for Him Upsets Politicians

Washington, Feb. 29.—A steady growth in sentiment for Justice Charles E. Hughes for president is turning attention to the unusual character of the campaign ahead and to the things for which the justice might be expected to stand.

The demand for Justice Hughes has made such headway in the last two weeks that politicians who have been anxious to discount the spontaneous talk of Hughes in favor of some one of the active candidates, are revising their expectations.

Their feeling is that after all the Republican candidate for president may be chosen by the will of the people as represented in the convention rather than by a hotel room convalescence.

In the persistence of the unimpeded and unorganized demand for Justice Hughes is found much significance as to the essentials that will engage public attention throughout the campaign. If this demand holds it will mean that millions of voters want the many issues now roughly classified as "American" decided without going to the extreme of voting for a leading citizen with a big stick.

The more the chances of war are emphasized, either by the Democrats or by supporters of Col. Roosevelt, the more pronounced is expected to be the turn to Justice Hughes. The way Hughes sentiment continues increasing, without the encouragement of any activity, is accepted as a pretty impressive sign of what the country wants, not only as to candidate but as to policy.

This want draws attention to the distinction between just political and genuinely national questions. It suggests—and politicians are beginning to feel that something more than catchwords are necessary to satisfy it—that the country is entering a campaign of the sort that preceded 1890, with attention riveted on policies concerned with national existence as well as internal development. Such a campaign, disconcerting to sectional interests and "pork barrel" enthusiasts, may be the prelude to America's "finding herself." Inevitably it is going to be a period of debate on what constitutes Americanism, its safe, sure, necessary and honorable policies, with perhaps national and international changes resulting that will affect life in the remotest hamlet for generations to come.

In itself the prospect of two men of such marked ability as President Wilson and Justice Hughes presenting the opposing sides of a case involving the national future is enticing. As a phrase-maker and subtle controversialist the president is an adept. If Justice Hughes lacks resourcefulness in making himself understood or vigor of expression in advancing or defending his opinions, the lack is not on record. The president would have the duty of saying the best that can be said for certain successes, certain failures and for his foreign policy. Justice Hughes would logically be the leader of opinion that traces the president's failures to Democratic party time and principles, and of the opinion that says back of a foreign policy should be the necessary military organization for defense and for firmness in negotiations.

If the country—the real America—calls Justice Hughes to the task he will accept. That can be taken as the opinion of one man or as a deduction from

When you know physicians have prescribed Resinol for 20 years in the treatment of itching, burning, unsightly skin eruptions, and have written thousands of reports such as: "It is my regular prescription for itching," "Resinol has produced brilliant results," and "The result it gave was marvelous in one of the worst cases of eczema," doesn't it make you say to yourself, "that's the right kind of treatment for my skin-trouble?" the logic of the situation. It isn't a question of the justice's responding to party claims and ambitions, to the hundreds of politicians, large and small, who for various reasons of their own have sought the justice's consent to take steps toward getting delegates. The question of the justice's accepting a merely political or party nomination was decided in 1912, when he was asked to accept by the party leaders and refused. Years ago the justice severed all connection with party splits, animosities and party victories.

WILSON READY FOR TEST.

President Even Anxious for a Clash with Congress.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The administration will welcome a vote on the Gore resolution in the Senate or upon any measure with the president whether the representatives of the people in Congress will stand by him in his declaration that Germany must refrain from sinking armed merchantmen without warning or suffer a break with the United States, the influence of the White House will be exerted no longer to prevent such a test. In fact administration men in both branches may encourage the Goreites, Bryanites, pro-Germans and pacifists to do the worst. The international situation is a tense one and the president desires to learn quickly on whom he can depend in Congress and on whom he cannot. Or, to put it another way, the men who have sought to embarrass the president in his efforts to defend neutral rights, protect American citizens and at the same time avoid a break with Germany, must go on record. With inflammatory resolution hanging fire in both branches, incendiary talk may continue indefinitely among certain inspired gentlemen and the attention of Congress be directed away from its legitimate work to issues with which Congress has nothing to do.

It may be needless to say that no resolution repudiating the president can pass either branch of Congress. Last week closed with members of both branches, particularly the House, running around in circles trying to avoid the fire of blazing criticism that has been poured upon Washington from the press and people of the country when it became known that Congress was plotting to betray the president. A number of raucous voices on Capitol Hill grew silent, and when the whips had counted up the forces, they found that a majority in both branches would stand by the president to the last ditch. Now the administration is eager for a record vote and the frightened disturbers of the peace are trying to stave one off.

ITS NEEDS AS A NAVAL POWER

What the United States Should Have by 1925—Fleet Should Be Stronger Than Great Britain's.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The navy general board's conception of the needs of the United States as a naval power were outlined to the House naval committee yesterday by Rear Admiral Austen M. Knight, president of the Navy War College.

In formulating the policy that the navy should equal the strongest fleet by 1925, he said, the board had in mind the establishment of two fleets, one in the Pacific powerful enough to overcome any enemy there and the other in the Atlantic, where it would be exceeded in strength only by the British fleet.

A total force slightly in excess of the strength of the British fleet, he said, would accomplish this purpose and insure the country against 99 out of 100 possibilities of international complications.

The supreme court yesterday required the federal court of appeals of New York to send up for review on its merits David Lamar's conviction of having impersonated an officer of the United States.

A favorable report on the administration's bill to repeal the free sugar clause of the tariff law, which would become operative May 1, was authorized yesterday by unanimous vote by the House ways and means committee. The bill will be brought up Thursday.

The British embassy yesterday announced it had been authorized to deny statements that Great Britain warned her subjects of ships of the belligerents in the Russo-Japanese war.

U. S. MAY GET TWO BIG DYE SHIPMENTS

Britain Willing If Germany Will Permit Exportation from Rotterdam of $5,000,000 Worth.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Great Britain will permit the shipment of two cargoes of dyestuffs valued at $5,000,000 from Rotterdam to the United States, Ambassador Page at London has advised the state department, and officials here are hopeful that Germany will make an exception to its embargo by granting permission for their exportation.

Ambassador Page said that the British foreign office had given him assurances that the cargoes would not be interfered with.

BIGGER TAX ON INCOMES

Democratic Leaders Already Are Framing Such a Measure

IT IS NECESSARY TO FIND SOME WAY

Of Increasing Revenue—The Size of the Tax Not Yet Decided

Washington, Feb. 29.—That a heavy additional income tax will be the chief reliance of the Democrats to raise revenue is indicated here by a reliable canvass of leaders in both the House and Senate. As soon as the principal appropriation bills shall be out of the way, the Democrats plan to take up the question of how to raise the money necessary to pay the expenses. Estimates from representatives and senators indicate that opinions as to the extent of the income tax vary widely, some placing it at 12 per cent, others as high as 35.

The main trouble with the income tax as a revenue producer is that the revenue from this source cannot be collected till nearly a year hence. It is calculated that there are in the United States 7500 persons who receive a net income of at least $50,000, making a net taxable income of nearly $1,000,000,000, estimated to be one-twentieth of the total national income and almost $300,000 more than the receipts of the federal government last year. It is calculated that 357,513 persons in the United States have an aggregate net taxable income of nearly $4,000,000,000, one-fifth of the national income.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has already expressed himself publicly in favor of increasing the income tax. It is understood that the administration's bill is being prepared by Representative Corbell Hull of Tennessee, author of the income tax law.

Among the radical Democrats there is some talk of enacting an inheritance law, but the impression in administration circles seems to be that it is better to leave their resources open to the country only in the event of war or a similar emergency. Several speeches have been made on the inheritance tax proposition and there is a small agitation in favor of it.

Petitions are coming in to members of Congress from all over the country in favor of increasing the income tax as the best means for raising the revenue to pay for preparedness.

Free Sugar Repeal Favorably Reported.

Washington, Feb. 29.—A favorable report of the administration's bill to repeal the free sugar clause of the tariff law, which would become operative May 1, was authorized yesterday by unanimous vote by the House ways and means committee. The bill will be brought up Thursday.

The proposed legislation already has been approved as a party measure by the House Democrats in caucus, and its passage in both houses before May 1 is virtually assured.

The measure is expected to open up the whole question of revenue legislation.

As the law now stands, sugar would go on the free list May 1, and it is estimated that the government would lose $40,000,000 in annual revenue thereby.

Are Medicines Liquors?

A certain class of prejudiced and jealous doctors who patent medicines only alcoholic beverages. They will tell you that such and such a medicine contains as much alcohol as a glass of beer or a certain quantity of whiskey; but they do not mention that the beer or whiskey is swallowed at one draught, while only a small quantity of the medicine is taken at one dose. At the same time they will use alcohol quite as freely and many in four or five times as great proportions in their own prescriptions.

Such standard remedies as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound use barely enough alcohol to preserve the root and herb extractives, too little to have injurious effects; and the medicine can be had, if desired, in a non-alcoholic form.—Adv.

Shrinking Linen.

A simple method of shrinking linen and similar wash goods is to first lay the material in yard folds, then baste all the selvages together on one side only. Then baste each end through all the folds in exactly the same manner.

The selvages on the other side are left free.

Next fold it neatly so that it will lie smoothly in the vessel prepared for it, not crushing at all.

The tub, etc., is filled with cold water in sufficient quantity to cover the goods to be immersed. The material should lie in the water for about half an hour, when it should be wrung out lightly to avoid creasing. Hang the basted end to the line, then pull and straighten with the hands, slipping them up and outward between the free selvages.

When nearly dry release the bastings on two ends and assist the drying by shaking and shaping and crease the folds to denote yard lengths.

When quite dry, cut the bastings threads from the selvages end, when the material should look like new. In all probability no ironing will be necessary.

Menu for Cold Day Dinners.

This is a hearty menu, made up of things that seem to fit best on cold, brisk days.

Dumplings in soup are not often served in private homes because they are rather hard to cook satisfactorily, and must be made just right. The following recipe, however, is a good one to follow, says the Christian Science Monitor, and the dumplings are nice in a plain tomato soup or in a rich well seasoned mutton broth which has been cooled and had all the grease removed from the surface.

Reheat the broth and when it is boiling, drop in the dumplings; cover and let boil 15 minutes, then serve.

Soup Dumplings—Chop and free from skin a quarter of a pound of fresh beef suet. Add a cup and a half of flour, a half teaspoon of salt, a teaspoon of sugar, a dash of cayenne pepper, a salt-spoon of baking powder, and enough water to form them into small dumplings the size of marbles. Put on a floured plate until ready to drop them into the soup.

Escalloped Codfish—Flake enough cold boiled codfish to make a cup and a half; add a cup of dry bread crumbs, salt, pepper, a tablespoon of Worcestershire sauce, a gill of melted butter, one tablespoon of chutney syrup, a half cup of cream and a stiffly beaten white of an egg. Mix thoroughly and fill buttered ramekins with the mixture. Lay on top of each two raw oysters that have been dipped in egg and crumbs, and dust the top of all with a little grated cheese and dots of butter. Bake in a medium oven until brown.

Fresh Baked Ham—Select a short, thick, fresh ham and have it boned to stuff. Make a highly seasoned stuffing, adding a little chopped celery, onion, tart apple, and a few raisins to it. Bake the ham in a double roasting pan and, just before removing it, sprinkle with a little brown sugar, a little grated lemon peel, and stick it with cloves; then return to the oven and brown it evenly. Serve garnished with sliced fried apple. Make a brown gravy, using the dish gravy as a foundation. Serve with it celery, apple jelly and Greek eggplant.

Greek Eggplant—Cut the eggplants around in halves and boil in salted water until they are slightly tender. Remove and drain; then hollow out the centers, leaving good-sized cups. Chop the centers fine with one tomato; add a tablespoon of onion and a tablespoon of chopped bacon to each half. Fill the cups and put a piece of butter on top of each and a teaspoon of melted currant jelly. Bake in the oven until they are a delicate brown.

Grapefruit and Chestnut Salad—Prepare the meat of two large grapefruit in the usual way. Add a half cup of chopped celery, a cup of chopped, freshly boiled and blanched chestnuts, and the white heart of a head of chicory, cut fine. Fold all in mayonnaise and serve on crisp lettuce leaves, garnished with a little chopped red pepper.

Angel Charlotte—Take a large angel cake and with a sharp knife cut the hole in the center a little larger. Put the cake on a plate, fill the hole partly full of good orange marmalade and spread the top of the cake with it; then heap whipped cream over all, and decorate the top with candied cherries.

MRS. WILSON NAMED AS QUEEN OF FASHIONS

Milliner, in Lecture in Pittsburg, Suggests Her as the World's Leader.

Pittsburg, Feb. 29.—If for no other reason than that they want Mrs. Wilson in the White House, all the milliners of this country are eager for the re-election of President Wilson. This assertion was made yesterday by Ora Cue of New York in a lecture here. He is an authority on millinery.

"For the first time in many years we have a president's wife young enough and wealthy enough to afford a taste for leading fashions."

"It would take money to set the world's fashions, but Mrs. Wilson is understood to have half a million in her own right."

"The situation is this: There will be no permanent leader of fashions unless the king of England should die and the prince of Wales were to marry some enormously wealthy girl with a taste for dress. All that is improbable—so it's Mrs. Wilson or nobody."

Phosphate in Wyoming.

A geological reconnaissance for phosphate in the Salt River range of Wyoming, by G. R. Mansfield, of the United States geological survey, has resulted in a brief report showing the location and character of beds of rock phosphate of medium grade on the west flank of that range. This investigation is part of the exploratory work and mapping which the geological survey is doing in the western phosphate field. This work has already resulted in the discovery of beds of phosphate, most of it of high grade, aggregating several billion tons. The present report is designated as bulletin 829-O and may be had on application to the director, geological survey, Washington, D. C.
